A web map is a map that you can create with the Map Viewer, stored in ArcGIS, and then use in applications. The Map Viewer allows you to interactively style and configure maps by setting the basemap layer, data layers, layer styles, pop-up settings, and layer visibility ranges. Esri is the world leader in GIS (geographic information system) technology. This site features free GIS software, online mapping, online training, demos, data, software and service information, user scripts, and more. Use ArcGIS Publisher to convert ArcGIS Pro maps to mobile map packages viewable with the free ArcGIS Explorer app for Android and iOS. What you can do with ArcGIS Publisher: Share maps with the public. Digital versions can be used by anyone, anywhere. Interactive mobile experience. A feature layer is a dataset in a hosted feature service. Each feature layer contains features with a single geometry type (point, line, or polygon), and a set of attributes. You can use feature layers to store, access, and manage large amounts of geographic data for your applications. You get features from a feature layer by accessing its URL. Feb 23, 2022 · map = new google.maps.Map(document.getElementById('map'), { center: {lat: -34.397, lng: 150.644}, zoom: 8 }); Zoom Levels. The initial resolution at which to display the map is set by the zoom property, where zoom 0 corresponds to a map of the Earth fully zoomed out, and larger zoom levels zoom in at a higher resolution. zoom: 8 The ArcGIS suite is designed for professionals who need to observe and analyze geographical data. Though ArcDesktop is primarily for users in professional fields, Esri also offers their software for civilians or "lifetime learners" and analyze the data that they can observe on the map.
